Don't stop now, finish the job!: Making HIV prevention funding work

During the past decade the global response to HIV has made substantial gains. However, the global HIV effort is not yet on track to long-term success. More is needed. In this paper, the Alliance calls on international donors to:

1. Recommit to Universal Access by 2015
2. Invest in rights-based, evidence-informed HIV prevention programmes for and with key populations
3. Fund country-owned HIV programmes with meaningful involvement of key populations

Universal Access: Moving beyond the rhetoric - a community sector report

The report summarizes the findings of a 15 country community sector analysis assessing the status of universal access to HIV prevention, treatment, care and support in 2010 – the deadline agreed by the world's governments for universal access. Based on the evidence provided, this report 'takes stock' - identifying successes, gaps and challenges.

AIDS at 30: Nations at the crossroads

This reports provides evidence of how much we have achieved and weighs that against our vision for the future: zero new HIV infections, zero discrimination and zero AIDS-related deaths. It includes scientific analysis, personal insights and results of extensive national and regional consultations at the front lines of the AIDS response.

The AIDS Accountability LGBT Scorecard - Element 1: Testing

The report covers analysis of the degree to which countries are fulfilling commitments to lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people in the response to HIV and AIDS: the AIDS Accountability LGBT Scorecard. This scorecard analysis follows on the previous Scorecards in 2008 and 2009. The LGBT Scorecard will be launched in a sequence of ten brief reports from March to November 2011, each covering a key element of the AIDS response. The element covered in this first report is HIV testing.

Posterī "Miljonu milēti. Miruši no AIDS."

AGIHAS, a people living with HIV and AIDS support group, issued these posters (A3 and A4) with cards in memoriam of people loved by millions and died of AIDS. Feel free to download and use them.

MAN NOZĪMĒTS EFAVIRENZS...REKOMENDĀCIJAS PACIENTIEM. Мне назначен эфавиренц: рекомендации пациентам

Brochure in two languages - Latvian and Russian - for PLHIV on treatment with Efavirenz. Recommendations for patients in friendly languages.

Harm Reduction at Work

For harm reduction and drug policy organizations that aim to improve the health and welfare of people who use drugs, the insights of drug users themselves are essential to shaping effective programs. Harm Reduction at Work gives the necessary know-how to ensure that both employees who do use drugs and those who don't are treated fairly. In addition to outlining the many benefits of hiring drug users, it provides detailed strategies for recruiting, supervising, and retaining staff.

Dance4life: Evaluating a global HIV and AIDS prevention program for young people using the Pre-Im framework for process evaluation

The aim of this study is to evaluate the implementation of the dance4life school-based HIV/AIDS prevention program, by sending questionnaires to two target groups in Africa and Europe, the local implementing partners and beneficiaries of the dance4life. Results show that dance4life provides a robust HIV and AIDS prevention program. Both the implementing partners and the participants assess the dance4life concept and the health prevention school program as strong.

Missing the Target: Report on Access to Treatment for People Living with HIV in Latvia

Research for this report was conducted between November 2009 and January 2010. It consisted of an extensive literature and policy documentation review; a review of letters sent by PLHIV in recent years to Apvieniba HIV.LV, a leading HIV advocacy group; and in-depth interviews with a total of 18 people. Made under International Treatment Preparedness Coalition.
