Fisheries Local Action Groups

Wetland Life

A partnership of seven Greek FLAGs is looking for a transnational partner experienced in comprehensive management of protected areas including touristic activities to make them more attractive. This expertise would be collected in order to develop a management guide that will be used for the improvement of the area's attractiveness and its guidelines and directions will be applied in the project's publicity material (guides with alternative forms of tourism, signs, etc).

The network that will be created of the protected areas under the Ramsar Treaty and the Natura 2000 Network, will aim at improving the economic development in these areas by establishing high-quality tourist products. For that, a guide will be developed recording the current situation of the involved protected areas, including historical and morphological aspects, flora and fauna and water quality, as well as the fisheries-related activities.

Additionally, the network aims to create a network for lagoon operators, promoting these areas using ICTs and improving accesibility by posting signs of environmental interpretation, path tracking and publication of informative material for disabled people.
